ABSTRACT

This annual bibliography lists 232 papers and reports presented at meetings and seminars held or sponsored by the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA) in 1991. The first of two parts lists papers delivered at the general conference, workshops, and pre-session seminar. These papers are listed under the heading of the IFLA professional group divisions that organized the meetings These divisions are: (1) General Research Libraries; (2) Special Libraries; (3) Libraries Serving the General Public; (4) Bibliographic Control; (5) Collections and Services; (6) Management and Technology; (7) Education and Research; and (8) Regional Activities. The second part of the bibliography lists papers delivered at meetings held outside of the general conference and throughout the year. Entries are given in a simplified ISBD form using English as the cataloging language. Each entry provides information on title, subtitle, author(s), number of pages, references, and page number of the original language version. Papers are cited by their language of origin; when translations are available, they are listed by title, subtitle, and paper number as notes to the entries. The author index provides references to the entry numbers and lists the libraries and other institutions where the authors are employed. Most of the papers are available from the IFLA resource centers and regional offices (the addresses for which are appended), or from the secretary of the sections under whose auspices the meetings were held. General conference papers are also available through ERIC. A list of 31 IFLA professional reports and a form for ordering them are also provided. (KRN)

INTRODUCTION

In 1983 a decision was taken by the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA) to publish an annual bibliography of all papers and reports presented at the meetings and seminars held by or sponsored by the Federation. Three volumes were published by the Royal School of Librarianship in Copenhagen (Denmark), covering the period from September 1982 to August 1985. The last 5 volumes, covering the period September 1985 to December 1990, have been published in the series IFLA Professional Reports (Nos. 15, 16, 19, 22, 27)

The bibliography of papers is published as soon as possible after each Annual General Conference of IFLA, and publicized as widely as possible in order to make it an effective reference tool for the world of information and communication. In 1991 1200 copies of the bibliography of 1990 were distributed free of charge to the Members of IFLA.

The 1991 Bibliography is compiled by IFLA HQ using dBase III+ software and follows the format used for the earlier bibliographies.

Arrangement

The bibliography is divided into two parts:

1) General Conference, Workshops and Pre-Session Seminar

   In Part 1 the entries are grouped together first by Division, then by Section and Round Table. They are listed alphabetically by author or anonymous title. Papers delivered at joint meetings are entered under one of the Divisions or Sections with cross-references (by author, title and code number) from the other.

   Papers given in conference workshops (indicated in the code number by "(WS)") are listed under the heading of the IFLA professional group(s) which organized the meeting. Papers received at Headquarters after the conference have not been given a code number.

2) Other meetings

   Part 2 is a record of papers delivered at satellite meetings (i.e. meetings held outside the session of the General Conference and throughout the year), subdivided alphabetically by names of the authors and listed in the sequence of acronyms of the Sections responsible for the organization of the meetings. Those papers have also not been given a code number.

Entries

The entries are prepared in a simplified ISBD form using English as the cataloguing language. Each entry provides information on title, subtitle, author(s), number of pages, references, and paper number (in brackets) of the original language version.

The workshop theme has been indicated as the first element of the note in the entry for a workshop paper.

The available translations are indicated by title, subtitle, and paper number as notes to the entries. The titles of papers in Russian have been transliterated by Ms Irina Roebstova according to the international (ISO) standard. Translations of titles are given as received by IFLA - they have not been revised.

Availability

The papers which were given as part of the programme of the General Conference in Moscow and were received before or during the conference (i.e. the papers having a code number) are available from the IFLA Resource Centers and Regional Offices (for addresses see Annex). Papers without a code number, given in workshops or satellite meetings are available from the Secretary of the Sections under whose auspices the meetings were held, if not indicated otherwise in the note of the relevant entry.

Author Index

The author index also lists the libraries or other institutions where the authors are employed, in so far as this information appears on the papers. The index refers to entry numbers.

Once again, our thanks are also due to Ms Ans Schonebaum who has done the final editorial work on this publication.

IFLA members are welcome to send me their comments and suggestions for further improvements to the annual bibliography.

Winston Roberts
Coordinator of Professional Activities

Note: all geographical and institutional names relating to the countries of Eastern Europe, the former USSR and Yugoslavia are given in the form which was used at he time of the IFLA Conference in August 1991.
